Unlike managing futures positions, Short and Leveraged Commodity Securities involve no rolling, margin calls, expiry or futures brokerage.

The Issuer has created and made available for issue 120 classes of Short and Leveraged Commodity Securities each of which gives investors exposure to the daily percentage changes in movements in one of the Bloomberg Commodity Indices and which can be grouped into 6 different types:

- One Times Short Individual Securities provide a short exposure to the daily percentage change in Bloomberg Commodity Indices which track movements in the value of futures contracts in one type of commodity (such that if the value of the relevant Bloomberg Commodity Index increases on any day, the value of the One Times Short Individual Security will decrease on that day by the same percentage and vice versa);
- One Times Short Index Securities provide a short exposure to the daily percentage change in Bloomberg Commodity Indices which track movements in the value of futures contracts in respect of a number of different commodities (such that if the value of the relevant Bloomberg Commodity Index increases on any day, the value of the One Times Short Index Security will decrease on that day by the same percentage and vice versa);
- Three Times Short Individual Securities provide a short exposure to three times the daily percentage change in Bloomberg Commodity Indices which track movements in the value of futures contracts in one type of commodity (such that if the value of the relevant Bloomberg Commodity Index increases on any day, the value of the Three Times Short Individual Security will decrease on that day by three times the percentage increase in the Bloomberg Commodity Index and vice versa);
- Two Times Long Individual Securities provide an exposure to twice the daily percentage change in Bloomberg Commodity Indices which track movements in the value of futures contracts in one type of commodity (such that if the value of the relevant Bloomberg Commodity Index increases on any day, the value of the Two Times Long Individual Security will increase on that day by twice the percentage increase in the Bloomberg Commodity Index and vice versa);
- Two Times Long Index Securities provide an exposure to twice the daily percentage change in Bloomberg Commodity Indices which track movements in the value of futures contracts in respect of a number of different commodities (such that if the value of the relevant Bloomberg Commodity Index increases on any day, the value of the Two Times Long Index Security will increase on that day by twice the percentage change in the Bloomberg Commodity Index and vice versa);
- Three Times Long Individual Securities provide an exposure to three times the daily percentage change in Bloomberg Commodity Indices which track movements in the value of futures contracts in one type of commodity (such that if the value of the relevant Bloomberg Commodity Index increases on any day, the value of the Three Times Long Individual Security will increase on that day by three times the percentage change in the Bloomberg Commodity Index and vice versa), in each case plus an adjustment for the risk free interest rate which accrues to a fully collateralised position in the relevant underlying futures contracts.

C.18 Description of return

The Price of each Short or Leveraged Commodity Security reflects movements in the relevant Bloomberg Commodity Index since the previous day on which the Price was calculated, adjusted by a leverage factor of -1 (for One Times Short Commodity Securities), -3 (for Three Times Short Individual Securities), +2 (for Two Times Long Commodity Securities) and +3 (for Three Times Long Individual Securities) and deduction of any applicable fees. Therefore, the return for a particular class will be based on, primarily, the performance of the relevant Bloomberg Commodity Index.

To achieve this, both the Short and Leveraged Commodity Securities and the Commodity Contracts through which the Issuer obtains exposure to the Bloomberg Commodity Indices are priced in accordance with the Formula. This Formula reflects (a) the difference between the level of the relevant Bloomberg Commodity Index on that day and the level of the relevant Bloomberg Commodity Index on the previous day on which the Price was calculated, (b) the application of a leverage factor of -1 (for One Times Short Commodity Securities), -3 (for Three Times Short Individual Securities), or +2 (for Two Times Long Commodity Securities) and +3 (for Three Times Long Individual Securities) and (c) fees payable by the Issuer to the Commodity Contract Counterparty under the Facility Agreement and to ManJer. The deduction of the fees payable to the Commodity Contract Counterparty and ManJer are referenced in the capital adjustment referenced in the Formula.

The Price of each class of Short and Leveraged Commodity Security will be calculated by the Issuer as at the end of each pricing day (after the futures market prices for that day have been published) and posted along with the applicable Capital Adjustment on the Issuer's website at <http://www.ETFSecurities.com/retail/uk/en-gb/pricing.aspx>.

The Price of each class of Three Times Short Individual Security and each class of Three Times Long Individual Security (Together the "Three Times Commodity Securities") incorporates an intraday rebalancing mechanism which will be triggered if the value of the relevant Bloomberg Commodity Index either (i) falls by 25 per cent. over the course of a day in the case of Three Times Long Individual Securities; or (ii) risers by 25 per cent. over the course of a day in the case of Three Times Short Individual Securities (referred to as a “Restrike Event”).

Following a Restrike Event, for the purpose of calculating the Price on such day, a further value for the Bloomberg Commodity Index will be calculated (the “Restrike Index Value”). A Security Holder will obtain a three times long or three times short (as the case may be) exposure to the movement in the relevant Bloomberg Commodity Index (i) from the value at the previous closing settlement price to the Restrike Index Value; and then (ii) from the Restrike Index Value to that day’s closing settlement price.

The Restrike Index Value will depend on whether the Restrike Event occurred during exchange hours or out of related exchange hours:

- During exchange hours – the Restrike Index Value will be the lowest value (for Three Times Long Individual Securities) or the highest value (for Three Times Short Individual Securities) of the relevant Bloomberg Commodity Index applicable to that class that occurs during the 15 minute period commencing immediately following the Restrike Event; or
- Out of exchange hours – the Restrike Index Value will be the lowest value (for Three Times Long Individual Securities) or the highest value (for Three Times Short Commodity Securities) of the relevant Bloomberg Commodity Index applicable to that class that occurs during the period from the Restrike Event to 15 minutes before exchange hours begin.

In either case, if a market disruption event or hedging disruption event occurs during the 15 minute period then that period may be extended by successive 15 minute periods until the earlier of (a) a continuous 15 minute period having elapsed during which no market disruption event or hedging disruption event has occurred and (b) the end of exchange hours on the third full trading day after the Restrike Event occurred.

The Short and Leveraged Commodity Securities do not bear interest. The return for an investor is the difference between the price at which the relevant Short and Leveraged Commodity Securities are issued (or purchased in the secondary market) and the price at which they are redeemed (or sold).

SECTION D – Risks

D.2 Key risks of Issuer

The Issuer has been established as a special purpose vehicle for the purpose of issuing exchange traded commodities as asset-backed securities. The Issuer currently issues ETFS Short Commodity Securities, ETFS Leveraged Commodity Securities and certain other securities (the “Classic and Longer Dated Securities”), which are issued pursuant to a separate base prospectus (the “Prospectus for Classic and Longer Dated Securities”) of the Issuer dated 27 April 2015, and has no assets other than those attributable to the Short and Leveraged Commodity Securities and the Classic and Longer Dated Securities. The amounts that a Security Holder could receive following a claim against the Issuer are, therefore, limited to the proceeds of realisation of the secured property applicable to such Security Holder’s class of Short and Leveraged Commodity Securities and as the Issuer is a special purpose vehicle formed only for the purpose of issuing the Short and Leveraged Commodity Securities and the Classic and Longer Dated Securities, and as the Short and Leveraged Commodity Securities are not guaranteed by any other person, the Issuer would have no further assets against which the Security Holder could claim. In the event that the secured property is insufficient to cover the amount payable to the Security Holder, the Security Holder would suffer a loss.

Although Short and Leveraged Commodity Securities are secured by Commodity Contracts and collateral, the value of such Short and Leveraged Commodity Securities and the ability of the Issuer to pay any redemption amounts remains partly dependent on the receipt of amounts due from UBS and MLCI under the Facility Agreements, the BAC Guarantee, the Security Agreements and the Control Agreements. No holder has any direct rights of enforcement against any such person.

There can be no assurance UBS, MLCI or any other entity will be able to fulfil their payment obligations under the relevant Commodity Contracts, Facility Agreement, BAC Guarantee, Security Agreement or Control Agreement. Consequently, there can be no assurance that the Issuer will be able to redeem Short and Leveraged Commodity Securities at their redemption price which could lead to an investor receiving less than the redemption price upon redemption of their Short and Leveraged Commodity Securities.

D.6 Key risks of securities

Past performance is not an indication of expected performance and the investment performance of a Short and Leveraged Commodity Security could be volatile. Consequently, investors in Short and Leveraged Commodity Securities may lose the value of their entire investment or part of it.

If UBS, acting as calculation agent, notifies the Issuer that the intra-day price of Commodity Contracts of the same class as any Short or Leveraged Commodity Securities has fallen to or below zero at any time during any trading day and that such Commodity Contracts have been terminated, then the Short or Leveraged Commodity Securities of such class will automatically be compulsorily redeemed on that day and Security Holders are unlikely in that situation to receive any proceeds as the relevant Pool is unlikely in these circumstances to have sufficient assets to repay Security Holders any material sums on such redemptions as the only assets available for the redemption of the affected Short or Leveraged Commodity Securities will be the Commodity Contracts whose value will be zero even if the Price of that class of Short or Leveraged Commodity Securities subsequently increases. In these circumstances, the Security Holder may suffer a loss if Short and Leveraged Commodity Securities are redeemed at a price lower than would otherwise have been applicable had the Security Holder's investment been redeemed on a day chosen by the Security Holder rather than on the date of the early redemption. Early redemption could also lead to a Security Holder incurring a tax charge that it would otherwise not be subject to and/or if the redemption takes place at a time when the cash value of the Short and Leveraged Commodity Securities is lower than when they were purchased by the Security Holder, the Security Holder could suffer a loss.

In the event of realisation of collateral from a Commodity Contract Counterparty, the value of the assets realised may be less than required to meet the redemption amount due to Security Holders. Any realisation of the collateral may take time and a Security Holder could experience delays in receiving amounts due to them. A Security Holder may also suffer a loss if the assets realised are less than the redemption amount due.

The returns from Short and Leveraged Commodity Securities are designed to provide exposure to daily changes in the relevant index. This is not the same as providing exposure to changes in the relevant index over periods greater than one day.

There may be days where disruption in the underlying commodity markets means that one or more classes of Short and Leveraged Commodity Securities are unable to be priced on that day. This will cause a delay in the application or redemption process which could adversely affect potential or existing investors.
